How are personal research activities reflected in teaching activities?	Teaching, research and community service are closely related in their activities and applications. While teaching, I develop good communication, observe, assess, provide input and evaluate. These steps enable data collection for subsequent analysis to gather evidence-based understanding to make necessary continuous improvements. Some of the assignments I give students by applying clear rules, clear instructions, group work, and peer assessment are important features of effective classroom management that are successfully implemented. They are required to create a learning environment that is conducive, encouraging and well controlled according to expectations.
